

Reading

Once upon a time, there lived a shoemaker. He spent his hours labouring in his workshop, making shoes and boots for the people of the village. Despite this, he became ever poorer. Eventually, he began to run out of money and soon only had one sheet of leather left. Desperate, he cut it into the shapes for the shoes and retired to his bed to sleep. When the man returned to his desk in the morning, he saw a pair of perfect shoes waiting for him on the desk. He was astounded. Where had they come from? They were an example of the most exquisite craftsmanship. The first customer of the day was so impressed that they paid double the shoemaker's rates. He took the money and bought twice as much leather. That night, the same thing happened, and he awoke to two pairs of perfect shoes. Once again, he sold the shoes and bought more leather. That night, he stayed awake and saw a group of elves making the shoes for him. To thank them, he made them sets of ornate clothes. Unfortunately, the elves loved the clothes so much they danced away in them and never returned.

- 1) Which word in the first paragraph is a synonym for "working"?
- 2) What does the phrase "retired to his bed" mean?
- 3) Which word tells the reader how detailed the new shoes were?
- 4) Why might the shoemaker have regretted giving the elves some clothes?
- 5) What do you think happened to the shoemaker after the elves left?

Maths —

Apples are cut into 8 pieces to be shared among some children. Twenty-two bags of seven apples are used. How many pieces of apple are cut?

Each car leaving a factory has 4 new tyres. 29 car transporters leave with 11 cars on each transporter. How many tyres are needed for all the cars?

Spelling.

Correct the following words:

1. Sparky was (detrurind) to retrieve the tennis ball.
2. Last week, we gave the garage a (thuruh) clean out.
3. "This jelly is simply (marvulus!)" the queen exclaimed.
4. Daryl placed his curly (signechure) on the document.
5. Amazingly, bees use a variety of dances to (komunnicate).

Pick a challenge to complete this week.

Music

Listen to your favourite song. Then recreate this using different items that you can find around the house. As a challenge, change the genre of the song that you have chosen. E.g country to pop, rap to blue etc

RE

Create your own Hindu god. What might they be the God of? What will they look like? What might their attributes be?

Science

1. When a car slow down, it is because of _____ between the tyres and the road.
2. The force that pulls objects towards the centre of the Earth is called _____.
3. A parachute works because of _____ resistance.

air friction gravity

Computing

Create an information poster about one of the following: phishing, Spam, how to be a good digital citizen.

PSHE

Create a poster about how to keep positive body image and self-esteem.

French

For each day next week, tell your family what the weather is in French.