Food that looks good enough to eat!

Can you make an edible picture/animal for your snack?
When it is time for a snack see if you could make an animal or a book character using different food. Ask an adult to help you to cut the food safely.
Here are some examples.

Remember to resist your snack long enough so you can take pictures to show us.

A time we will always remember

Can you make a memory catcher of this time where you have been at home. It could include pictures of special people you have spent time with or special things you have done with your family.

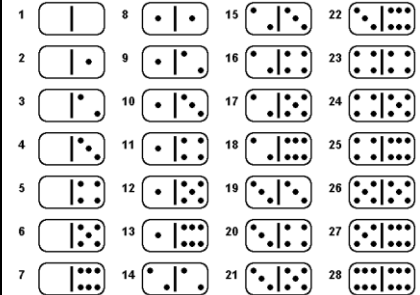

To make one similar to the picture below, collect two long sticks when you go on a walk. Use some string or ribbon to tie the two sticks together, leaving lots of space in between them for you to add your drawings or photos. You could use pegs to attach the pictures to the strings.

Dominos (not the pizza)

During this strange time I'm sure you are trying to find lots of different ways to keep you and your family entertained. You've probably played the same games over and over again. Why don't you try making your own dominoes game?

All you need to do is collect 28 stones when you go for a walk. Then simply use a pen/paint or nail varnish and add dots, to create a set of dominoes out of stones.

Once you have created the set, play a game with someone in your home. Could you create some addition or subtraction number sentences with them?

Where will your mind take you? It's time to go on holiday

I know at the moment all of our family holidays and day trips out have been cancelled but don't let that stop you!
Pretend to go on holiday at home. You could go camping in your back garden (sleep in a tent and have marshmallows around the campfire) or go to the beach (set up a paddling pool, sand pit and have a drink on your deck chairs). Remember to think about what you will need to take with you and don't forget to pack your case. Decorate your chosen area e.g create a campfire if you're going camping. Draw/collage

Spread the happiness!

On your patio or an area outside at home can you use chalk to draw something that will make someone smile.

Get everyone in your home involved to see how artistic they are. Who will you dedicate your creation to? Who will you make smile today? Take a picture by your drawing and email to us so we can see your fantastic creations.

Wacky races

Can you create an obstacle course in your back garden or in your lounge? Try to include something you will go over, go around, go under.

You could weave in and out of some toys, jump over a saucepan/cushion/ go under a chair.

Remember wacky races isn't a normal race it's 'Wacky' which means you need to dress up! That means you need to create a fun and exciting outfit that makes you stand out from everyone else taking part in your house.

some palm trees if you're going to the seaside. Think about what you are going to do when you are on holiday. What will you wear? What will you eat? Remember to take lots of pictures. We can't wait to see where you travel too.

If it is sunny outside and you don't have chalk, try and create a happy or thankful message using water. Dedicate this message to someone in your house, I hope it makes them smile!
Although they will have to be quick to read it, as the sun will quickly dry up the water and your message will disappear.

Take a picture of yourself dressed up and tell us your special wacky name.

Can you compete with other members of your house. Who won the wacky races in your house?

Make a jar of wishes

During the last few months there have been lots of things we wish we could have done; see our friends, go to the park, give our grandparents a hug.

Why not create a jar full of your wishes?

To do this you need to collect an old jar that has been cleaned and decorate it in any way you like.

Then cut up some paper into small strips or you could cut out different shapes like stars.

Every time you think of something you would like to do or somewhere you would like to go with your family or friends, write it down on your paper or shapes.

When lockdown is over, each member of your family gets to pick a wish from the jar.

Pirates Treasure Hunt

Aye aye pirates! We have a special secret mission for you to complete. We would like you to find and hide 5 things that you think are special treasure.

Make a detailed map of where you have hidden the 5 items. You could even add some obstacles to cross or challenging questions to answer to be able to pass safely or force them to take a different route. You are pirates trying to hide your treasure after all!

We can't wait to see your amazing maps and the challenges you create.

Come fly with me: Paper airplane race

Nearly everyone has made a paper airplane before but can you and your family create different types of paper airplanes? You can design it how you like and add any additional parts you think will help it fly better. Add colour and pictures you like to make it stand out.

You could watch the video below to help you create 5 different types:

Can you take the end results outside and have races to see whose can go the furthest?

Think about what you could use to measure the distances, it doesn't have to be done in standard units of measure like M-metres or CM-centimetres. How about using your hands or feet, you could even use silly things like rocks or sweets?
