|
2 add 6 gives the same answer as 3 add 5 True or false. Explain your answer.	Jack has 9 beans. He is given 5 more beans. How many beans has Jack got now?	Jack had 10p and spent 5p on milk. How much change did he have?
Jack had 20 cows. His Mum made him sell all of them apart from 1. Write a – maths story to show this calculation.	There are 16 eggs. If I eat 8 of them, I will have an odd number left. True or false? Explain your answer.	The beanstalk has 14 leaves. How many more leaves need to grow to make 29 leaves?
If the beanstalk always grows multiples of 2 leaves, there will always be an even number of leaves. Will this always, sometimes or never be true?	50 cows and ? cows make 80 cows altogether. Find the missing number.	The hen lays 3 eggs on Monday. She did the same thing on Wednesday and Friday. Write this as a x maths story?