Monarch Butterfly

Danaus plexippus

The monarch is an incredible butterfly. It spends the spring and summer months in North America. When autumn comes, it travels thousands of miles south to Mexico. It then spends the entire winter hibernating; only to wake up in the spring to travel all the way back again!

1) Where does the Monarch butterfly spend the Spring and Summer months?

2) What does the butterfly do in Winter?

3) Why do they fly back in Spring to America?
