

Reading:

An inseparable partnership
bound together for eternity. ✨
A constant struggle for domination,
growing and diminishing throughout the day.
Closely following one another, always connected.

By midday, natural light is supreme, glaring down at the short shadows beneath.
As the sun begins to dip, determined shadows claw back, battling for supremacy.
Long shapes stretching, lengthening, extending.

Alas! Neither can defeat the most powerful being:
darkness. ✨
It creeps up slowly, extinguishing all traces of light, eradicating all shadows.
A peaceful time for them to rest before sunrise emerges victorious.
The light and shadow dance commences once again.

1. In the poem, what removes all light and shadows?

2. Why do you think the author describes light and shadows as an inseparable partnership?

3. Draw four lines to match the word from the text with its synonym.

Art

Research a famous photographer and choose one of their pieces to recreate. This can be done using other objects, photomontage, drawing etc. Then take a photo of it using different filters on the camera.

History

Create a poster or a PowerPoint showing how Ancient Greece has influenced the modern world. Give examples of where this can be seen eg Buildings with Greek Columns.

Science

With a book move around your house into differently lit rooms— some darker and some lighter. Choose a page from your book, record how many words you were able to read in?

Explain why that is using a diagram and words. What challenges did you have?

Music

What music do you play when you feel happy? What about when you are angry? Are they different? Put together a play list for different emotions. I wonder if any of you have the same songs for the same feelings.

RE

If you are upset, what makes you happier? Is there someone you go to that cheers you up? Create a picture showing this.

Life's absolutely Awesome people light up the room, never realising just how many lives they touch. Sometimes they need a little card to remind them that they are one of a kind, and fabulous inside and out.

Computing

Look at different websites and answer the following questions:

- What makes them good?
- Is it easy to find information?
- Do they look appealing?
- Are they child friendly or easy to use?
- What could make them better?
